

Quality and environmental policy at Rinco Ultrasonics AG

Our quality and environmental policy is based on both fulfilling the agreements made with our customers and meeting their requirements at all times.

The quality of our products and services is a prerequisite for the successful development and future of the company. Our customers set the standards for our quality.

We identify, evaluate, manage and monitor risks, particularly in connection with medical products.

To ensure this, we have introduced a quality management system based on the ISO 9001:2015 and ISO 13485:2016 standards, as well as an environmental management system according to ISO 14001:2015.

These ISO certifications cover the RINCO ULTRASONICS AG site in Romanshorn, Switzerland. They do not extend to other parties such as suppliers or subsidiaries in other countries.

The requirements of these standards are met by every employee in their place of work. There is also a corresponding obligation for every employee to fulfil the requirements of the quality and environmental management system, to maintain its effectiveness and to strive for continuous improvement.

Management creates the necessary technical and organizational framework conditions for this. We regularly evaluate our processes and our management system with the aim of maintaining the quality and environmental management system and achieving continuous improvements.

By focussing on technical progress and innovative solutions, we intend to be a reliable partner for our customers for continuous, long-term and reliable cooperation.

Compliance with laws and regulations represents a prerequisite for achieving our quality standards.

We respect our environment and treat our resources with care, and we aim to continuously minimise or even avoid an environmental impact wherever possible. We are absolutely committed to fulfilling our binding obligations to the environment and to complying with the associated laws and regulations.

The quality and environmental policy serves as the basis for defining our quality and environmental objectives. It is reviewed annually by management as part of the management review and adapted if necessary.

All employees are permitted to make the quality and environmental policy available to third parties (interested parties).

The ISO certifications obtained by RINCO ULTRASONICS AG only cover the site in Romanshorn, Switzerland. They do not extend to suppliers or our subsidiary companies.